2013 RADIUS XI | LIVERMORE VALLEY

HARVEST NOTES

2013 was as ideal a year to farm wine grapes as I have seen in the Livermore Valley in nearly 20 years. Clement weather throughout the year and no precipitation in August and October produced one of the highest yields California has ever seen. More importantly, the quality of fruit was uniform and extraordinarily high. The lack of rainfall (only 4.50 inches compared to 14.66 in 2012) did have its negative consequences, however. Lowering water tables caused an increased concentration of dissolved minerals that raised soil pH levels and led to the early senescence of canopy and the concomitant lowering of fruit ripeness levels in certain blocks.

WINEMAKER NOTES

The spectacular quality of the 2013 vintage shows through again in Radius XI, our take on the natural affinity between Cabernet Sauvignon and Syrah. As is typical with this blend – at least in the last several vintages – the fruit for this wine was grown on our estate vineyards, the Home Ranch in the center of the Livermore Valley appellation and Ghielmetti Estate Vineyard in the eastern foothills, 3.4 miles further east. Radius XI shows all the depth, suppleness of fruit and concision of structure that we seek in this blend. Each variety was vinified separately, aged for about a year, blended, then barreled down for another 8-12 months to allow the parts to become whole. The wine was aged in 100% French oak for a total of 20-24 months.

TASTING NOTES

Radius XI shows a wonderfully complex interplay between the blue/black fruit notes typical of Syrah, the redder (and more herbal) notes of Cabernet Sauvignon and subtle semi-sweet chocolate notes from toasted oak. This latter aromatic quality will recede and become more integrated with bottle age. The richness of aroma is mirrored by the supple fruit on entry. Syrah takes the lead organoleptically and gives way to red fruit, tannin, and acidity from the Cabernet toward the back of the palate. We believe strongly in the acidity's role to create a sense of freshness even in the biggest red wine, and in Radius XI, the wine's acid line runs briskly through the mouth, both leavening the voluptuous quality of Syrah and carrying the wine to a very long, mouth-watering conclusion. With proper storage, this wine will continue to evolve beautifully for 7-10 years.
